

Wednesday, 2 September 2020 (Precourse)

Time	Session	Lecture
13:30 - 13:45	Ultrasound in clinical practice	The evolving role of ultrasound in rheumatology clinical practice Lene Terslev
13:45 - 14:00		Gout - diagnosis, management and monitoring Hilde Berner Hammer
14:00 - 14:15		Juvenile idiopathic arthritis - joint anatomy and pathologies in the developing skeleton Anna-Birgitte Aga
14:15 - 14:30		Primary Sjögren syndrome - diagnostic value of ultrasound Daniel Hammenfors
14:30 - 14:45		Psoriatic arthritis - evaluation of joints, tendons and entheses Lene Terslev
14:45 - 15:05		Coffee break
15:05 - 15:30	MRI & CT in clinical practice	Psoriatic arthritis: Whole body MRI - a useful tool? Mikkel Østergaard
15:30 - 15:55		Gout: Dual energy CT - a useful tool? Fabio Becce
15:55 - 16:20		Detection and monitoring of connective tissue disease associated interstitial lung disease by CT Fredrik Ahlfors
16:20 - 16:40	Coffee break
16:40 - 17:05	Imaging for the future	PET-CT in systemic rheumatic diseases - a guide for the clinician Berit Dalsgaard Nielsen
17:05 - 17:25		Machine learning and artificial intelligence: The future of rheuma-radiology Mikael Boesen
17:25 - 17:30		Summary Espen A. Haavardsholm
19:00 - 21:00	Get-together	